I LOVE WHAT I DO!

I am blessed beyond belief.

God blows my mind daily but especially when I get to do what I love. This summer I was able to test the waters yet again and have God once more confirm my call to missions. Between my summer in Panama and my year and a half in Nicaragua I have seen that I could truly do nothing else. I am honored to be on this crazy adventure with God loving on kids and ultimately being able to play a small part in his glorious mission. Nothing brings me more joy than blessing the forgotten and hopeless children of the world by bringing them the love of Jesus. I love what I do!

A NEW ADVENTURE

"Now, I am preparing to return to Panama..."

When I transferred to Northwest University last year to finish up my schooling I realized that I had to soon make plans for life after graduation. It is a daunting task for many but for me it was simple; get back to the mission field. At whatever cost, get back to Latin America. I planned to become a Missionary Associate with the Assembly of God with no idea of what country I would actually end up in. I put it in God's hands and applied to be a Missionary the day before I left for my three month internship in Panama City, Panama. Not long after arriving I was in the thick of it ministering to youth throughout the city and leading teams. It was such a great experience to work with missionaries, Gerritt and Tara Kenyon. I learned so much under their leadership about missions and true service for the Lord. Now, I am preparing to return to Panama to work with the Kenyons once again. I am thrilled for this opportunity to serve alongside great missionaries.

HOPE AND HEALING

"New life in Jesus"

"Our goal together is to reach and bring healing through Jesus Christ"

While the Kenyon's primary mission is to the youth culture of Panama City, I will be focusing on an even younger demographic; the children. Panama's children and youth are often being sexually exploited and coerced into severe forms of trafficking.

"Attending missionary training in Springfield, Missouri this June."

Our goal together is to reach and bring healing through Jesus Christ to as many of these youth and children as we can.

After graduating this May and raising the necessary funds I hope to leave for language school in 2016. While this may seem like a long way off I am ecstatic to get the ball rolling by attending missionary training in Springfield, Missouri this June and begin itinerating in a few short months. I look forward to sharing updates on my plans with each of you in the future. If you would like to partner with me in this new journey back to Panama feel free to contact me by phone or e-mail. Dios le bendiga! God bless!

Please consider helping me get to missionary training this June. If unable to raise proper funds I will be forced to push back my training dates and, therefore, my departure date. If you can and would like to help me fulfill God's call on my life you can contact me directly or give on my website provided below.
